Megan has been a JHCS parent since 2017. She has spent many years volunteering in John Hancock Charter School classrooms, including help with weekly centers, reading aide, room parent, and serving on the PTO. In 2022, Megan joined the JHCS faculty as a kindergarten teacher. She has had the opportunity to teach at both Pleasant Grove and Eagle Mountain campuses. She hopes her unique perspective as both a parent and educator will be an asset to the John Hancock Charter School Board as the school continues to provide educational excellence to a growing number of students. She believes the role education plays within communities is invaluable and loves supporting teachers and classrooms in their goal to provide quality instruction, positive learning environments, and unique experiences and opportunities that help instill a love of learning.

Megan graduated from Brigham Young University in 2009 with a BS in Psychology. She resides in Saratoga Springs UT with her husband and three children.
